

Hail the Halls

Two notable Beloit institutions are celebrating anniversaries this year: The Beloit Hall of Fame is turning 40, and the Sports Hall of Fame is 20 years old. Over the years the two Halls have inducted 351 individuals, representing the best and brightest of Beloit. Let's revisit the Halls and take a look at some of the remarkable people enshrined.

Beloit Hall of Fame

The current City Hall of Fame was actually a resurrection of an idea from the 1930s. After Beloit observed its centennial in 1936, Oscar Nelson, secretary of the Beloit Commercial Club, proposed that a Hall be established "for the purpose of perpetuating the memories of [deceased]-men and women, who in life, gave generously of their time, talents and means to the building of our city." So a "Hall of Beloit Builders and Founders" was established, and in 1938 the original inductees were enshrined. Their portraits were painted by the noted local artist E. M. R. Weiner and presented to the public in a ceremony at Grinnell Hall June 16, 1940. These are currently on display at Lincoln Center. Unfortunately, the outbreak of World War II cancelled further inductions.

Then in 1966 the curator of the Beloit Historical Society, M. Walter Dundore, and Bart Swindall, executive director of the Greater Beloit Chamber of Commerce, revived the Hall, now called the Beloit Hall of Fame. To make up for the past two and a half decades, 15 new inductees were enshrined in the first two years, and each year since then five more memorable individuals have been inducted. The list of notable Beloiters includes administrators, artists, athletes, aviators, bankers, businessmen, doctors, explorers, farmers, founders, historians, homemakers, inventors, journalists, lawyers, ministers, musicians, pioneers, soldiers, teachers, technicians, thespians, & volunteers. Following are a few excerpts from the Hall of Fame biographies.

Father Joseph Hanz (1880-1950) was ordained in 1903 at St. Francis Seminary in Milwaukee, and started his first pastorate in Beloit at St. Thomas under Father Ward. In 1908 a directive came that a second Catholic parish be established in Beloit, and Father Hanz was assigned to organize St. Jude's on the city's west side. In 1926 he founded Beloit's first parochial school, Brother Dutton. Father Hanz' greatest priestly honor came in 1955 when he was elevated to the rank of monsignor.

Sadie Bell

Sadie Bell (1910-1992) was born in Pontotoc, Mississippi, and as a young child moved with her family to Beloit where she graduated from Beloit High School. She was president of the Beloit chapter of the NAACP for eight years, and with her cousin Rubie Bond was involved in Beloit's first sit-in by African-Americans, protesting Kresge's segregated restaurant. Sadie volunteered at the Salvation Army, Beloit Council of Churches, Beloit Historical Society, and the Visiting Nurses Association; she was also a member of the Beloit Business and Professional Women's Club, and in 1980 was recognized by the Beloit Daily News as Volunteer of the Month.

From The Director

Since the last issue

The Volunteer Brunch of 20 April was a well attended affair. Jane Threinen gave a memorable program about the death of the TV Sitcom, presenting famous film clips of some of the most popular comedies spanning the 1950s and 1970s. Our sincere thanks to Jane and to all of you Volunteers who keep the Society going.

Quilting classes of February and March are over and once again were successful. We thank Bobbie Fiske for teaching an interesting variety of styles and methods of quilting, and you can count on her and the quilters to be back here next year to do the same.

Ghosts and Haunted Places of Wisconsin were the topic of our Spring Program this past 19 May. Chad Lewis, an expert in the field, presented a lively and entertaining program of the eerie and the incredible to a full crowd of intensely interested people. It was a wonderful evening and we hope all of you who came, and those of you who were unable to come, will join us next year for another Springtime program at the Historical Society.

Coming Up

Though the February and March quilting classes are over, one Saturday a month is now being offered starting in June and running through November. The first of these quilting classes started on the 17th of June and ran from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. The cost for each class will be $12 for non-members and $11 for members. An itinerary of the other Saturday classes will be available at the Society as well as a list of needed supplies and materials.

Our Sports Hall of Fame dinner and induction ceremonies are scheduled for 19 July 2006 starting at 6:00 p.m. The event is held at the Beloit Historical Society's Lincoln Center. Guest speaker for the evening is Ed DeGeorge, former football coach at Beloit College.

Heritage Days for the Beloit Historical Society is going to be on the 9th of September this year. Tentatively we have arranged for a Civil War reenactment group to enlighten the public about a Civil War camp. They will set up camp on Friday and will mix with the public on Saturday. Food will be available—barbecued ribs and potato salad for sure, but the menu is not yet finalized.

Russell Van Galder

Russell Van Galder (1907-1979) was known locally as one of the early proponents of aviation. He became a barnstormer and was the originator of the "Van Galder Flying Circus." In his early days of flying he navigated with road maps, and he landed at night by the headlights of an automobile. Van Galder held a Commercial Pilot's license with ratings for multi-engine, seaplane, and instrument; was a certified instrument instructor and flight instructor; held an Aircraft and Engine Mechanics license; and was a designated FAA Inspector. He operated Beloit Airways, and over the years taught thousands of students to fly, many of whom went on to become military and airline pilots. Van Galder and his wife, Marge, selected and recommended the site of the present Southern Wisconsin Regional (Rock County) Airport, and he assisted in the creation of the Blackhawk Tech A & P Mechanics School.

Roy C. Mielke (1906-1977) started working for the Beloit Iron Works in 1933 where he filled many positions, retiring as executive office manager and the coordinator of the paper machinery division policies and procedures. Mr. Mielke was a past president of the Boy Scouts and the first chairman of the Red Cross blood program, a member of the Board of Directors of the United Givers Fund, the Visiting Nurse Association and the Children's Service Society. He served as secretary of the Beloit Police and Fire Commission and as vice chairman of the Board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education District Five for Rock and Green Counties. He served as a Rock County supervisor from 1972 to 1977, and served four years on the Board of Directors of the Greater Beloit Association of Commerce. Roy Mielke was an active member of the First Congregational Church and the Beloit Country Club, was a member and past president of the Beloit Corporation Quarter Century Club, and received the Man of the Year award in 1958.

Roy Mielke

Jackson Bushnell

Jackson Bushnell (1815-1873) was the first full professor appointed to the Beloit College faculty in October 1849. As a student at Yale in 1841 he worked his way through college, in part by ringing the college bell. Appointed professor of mathematics, Bushnell frequently found that his services also included financing. For a time he was treasurer of the college. Mr. Bushnell, as a collegian and business man, had a keen realization that town and college shared a mutual interest. He was convinced that the fortunes of the college and this young city were interwoven. He built Bushnell House in order to make the city of Beloit a better center for business and to afford the College better hospitality for its guests; at the time it was considered the finest hostelry outside Milwaukee. His home in South Beloit still stands as a monument to his community spirit and his love of walking to and from school.

Sports Hall of Fame

The Beloit Historical Society's Ted Perring Sports Hall of Fame was established in 1986. E.L. "Ted" Perring, a popular Beloit golfer, donated the money necessary for creation of the hall and did so to honor his father George, as well as to commemorate sports and sports figures of Beloit. George was a professional baseball player of the early 1900s and one of the original inductees into the Hall. Each year an induction ceremony is held at the Beloit Historical Society to induct individuals who have made significant contributions to athletics, and to recognize an outstanding team in the area of sports. To mark the occasion we have chosen a selection of individual sports figures to highlight.

Johnny Watts

Johnny Watts, considered one of the best basketball players to play for Beloit Memorial, had the distinction of playing on three high school basketball state championship teams (1932-1934.) Johnny also had the distinction of being named to the All-State first-string basketball team for the same three years. Johnny also starred in football as halfback, in the dashes and 440 in track, and in baseball at shortstop. At the end of his sophomore year at LaCrosse Johnny became a member of the Harlem Globetrotters.

Dorie Stankewitz attended Turner High School and starred in volleyball, basketball and softball. As a senior pitcher, Dori allowed 29 hits and 9 earned runs in 68 regular season innings, struck out 119 batters with an ERA of 0.96, batted .520, knocked in 33 runs and stole 14 bases. Dori was awarded an athletic scholarship by Florida Southern University where she was named to the All-American Softball team twice. She was the first Southern female athlete of the year. She holds four NCAA Division 11 records including 20 strikeouts in one game, 64 consecutive scoreless innings pitched, 11.5 strikeouts per seven innings in a season and 10.3 strikeouts per seven innings for her career. She also holds 23 Florida Southern school records and finished her career with an 81-15 record and a 0.70 career earned run average. In 1993 Dori was inducted into the Sunshine State Conference Hall of Fame as a member of its third class of inductees.

Dorie Stankewitz

Harold "Dutch" Witte was a star in three sports: Football as a shifty, speedy halfback, basketball as a guard and baseball as a catcher, although he also pitched and played first base. He had a distinguished athletic career at Beloit High School from 1913 to 1916 and was elected captain in all three sports. Dutch attended Beloit College in 1917-1918 and played on the college football team that upset a strong contingent from Fort Grand. He played with the Beloit Fairies from 1919 until 1922 and played on the football team that defeated the Green Bay Packers. He also played on the Fairies basketball team that defeated the world champion Boston Celtics. From 1923 until 1925 he played baseball for Birmingham in the Southern Association and then the Tulsa Oilers in the Western League. He then joined the House of David football team as a player and organized the House of David basketball team. He played as well as managed until 1932. He managed after that but still suited up and played until 1938.

Dutch Witte

Vince Lamia competed in football, wrestling and track at Beloit Memorial High School. Vince was a full time performer for the football team as a kicker, a hard hitting fullback and a harder hitting linebacker. In Vince's senior year the football team was undefeated. For his efforts Vince was chosen as the Big Eight Player of the Year and named to the Wisconsin All State Team. He went to UW-Madison and made the football team as a walk-on, both as a field goal kicker and a linebacker. Coach Jardine allowed Vince to play linebacker until he injured his arm in a game; the realization that it could have been Vince's right leg caused the coach to limit him to kicking. Vince is the fifth highest scorer in football at the University of Wisconsin.

Merle Nickles Pierson began her very successful golfing career at age 14 when she was runner-up in the Wisconsin Junior Championship and won the Monona Golf Club Woman's Championship. She was the Wisconsin State Junior Golf champion in 1929 and 1930, and in 1932 and 1933 was Wisconsin's State Amateur champion. In 1935 she was chosen as the outstanding female golfer in the State of Wisconsin and invited to play an exhibition golf match with Babe Didrickson Zaharias and Gene Sarazen in Madison. Merle competed in the Beloit City Woman's Tournament in 1945, 1948, 1952, 1953, 1954 and 1956, and is the only woman in the history of the tournament to be undefeated. In 1965 Merle turned professional and at that time became one of only three women to be admitted to the Ladies Professional Golf Association in recognition of their career in golf. She concluded her golf career as a teaching professional for the Ladies Professional Golf Association.

Included in this issue are inserts with a sampling of complete bios from the two Halls, and a complete listing of all the inductees.
